

Project Management Training

Special mentoring options are also available to train and support current management staff and assist them with their needs in developing or managing a project or program.

This includes the creation and conduct of workshops covering issues such as project management and teamwork utilising experiential learning in workplace simulation workshops. They are interactive and fun.

Business Requirements and Analysis

Understanding and effectively defining organisations business requirements is a core service provided by Naxtor. By analyzing current business possesses and comparing these with organizational direction and future requirements, our experienced team is able to define a gap analysis and proceed to detail specific business requirements.

“At Naxtor we pride ourselves on adding value to our clients IT vision and project success.”

Our Delivery Capabilities

Managing a large, complex project is never easy. It usually places additional demands on your time, resources and budgets. Successful project delivery requires strong project management and leadership, and team members with the right talents and relevant skills. We help our clients by providing trained specialists to complement your project team. When and where necessary, we will also provide industry-experienced project managers who will ensure the timely and successful implementation of the project.

Our Project Management Team Offer Organisations.

- Professionalism and industry experience
- Focus in achieving agreed project business outcomes
- Methodological approach where surprises are minimized
- Measured and mitigated project risk
- Open project communication
- Vendor accountability
- Optimized use of client resources

Strategic IT Consulting

A strategic view of IT is essential for organizations who wish to maximize their returns from investments in information technology and systems. Naxtor Technologies offers organizations with a structured and painless process in creating a realistic, structured and measure IT strategy plan which underlines corporate strategic objectives.

Welcome to Naxtor Technologies

Change Management

The best software in the world, implemented in record time and on budget may still result in project failure if the users choose not to use it. Managing change during projects is the way of bringing the “hearts and mind on board”. Key change management strategies must be implemented and effectively communicated and distributed thought-out the wider stakeholder community – in parallel to the project management Gantt chart.

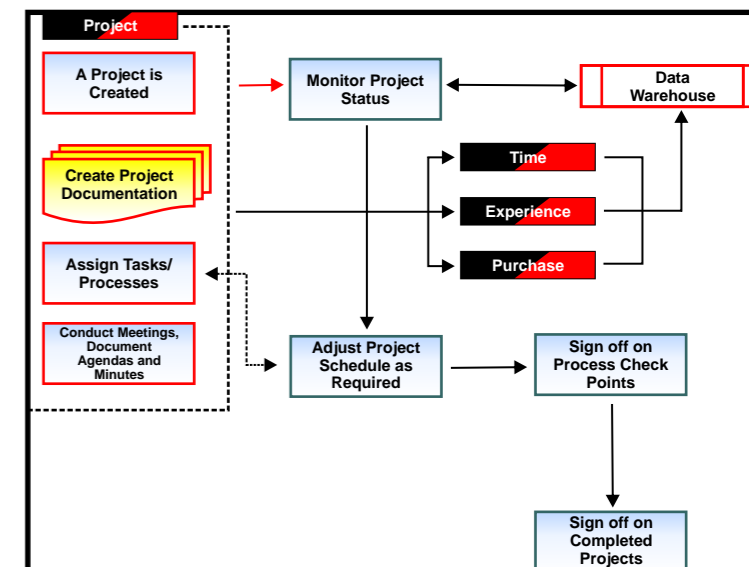

We assist organizations in developing and executing change management strategies that ensure:

- Optimal project and stakeholder communication,
- Fear and surprise is replaced with knowledge and awareness,
- Learning and education requirements are complete and effective
- On going support and learning strategies are implemented
- Avenues of feedback are developed and open from day one.

Business Process Management

BPM is the ability to see and control all parts of a long-lived, multi-step information request or transaction that spans multiple applications and people in one or more companies.

BPM means harnessing and enhancing the value of business processes within extended enterprise, no matter who they involve. To get your initial free consultation on Business Process Management contact us.

Methodology-our Approach

To become a world-class project management consulting practice, Our company has invested in research and development of a proven methodology known as the Naxtor project deliverance Framework PDF). Unlike conventional methodologies, the Naxtor PDF is business-case centric and integrates systems development and delivery processes congruent to its ISO9001 certified quality system. The methodology draws heavily on the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBok) and Prince 2.

Typically, our project managers would adopt and adhere to clients existing methodology to ensure alignment with concurrent initiatives, and supplement them with elements of the Naxtor PDF as required. We bring vast experiences in organizational change management (OCM).

Contact Us:

8 / 47-51 Boundary Street
Parramatta, NSW, 2150
Tel: +61 2 8916 6449
Fax : +61 2 8212 5994